introduction

I have 10 years of experience developing Flash content. I specialize in the development of websites, Rich Internet Applications, and Rich Media Advertising. I have experience in the design and development of computer training, kiosks, and CD-ROM. I have led teams of developers nationally and internationally for clients such as McDonalds, Phillip Morris and Mercedes Benz.

objective

I am looking for a opportunity which leverages my development and management skills. My long-term goals include management of a creative technology department, in addition to consulting with creative teams and account management to concept and pitch new projects.
